LON MULL SEEN AT SHELBYVILLE

His Every Movement Watched Now
as Though Convention Was Set
For Next Week.

HAS A TALK WITH BLODGETT

Manilla Man Suddenly Springs Into Print and "Billy" Says he Can Win.

It must be awful to be Lon Mull. Everybody wants to see him, it seems, and everybody wants to know whether he is going to run for congress in the Sixth district. Mr. Mull is a substantial man, and an honorable man, although hardly big enough perhaps to have the "Hon" tacked on the front end of his name. But really there are a lot of people who think there is much ado about nothing. It seems to have started in the ever ready brain of William Blodgett, political dopestier and specialist on political deals in general.

Mr. Blodgett wants Mr. Mull to run it seems in order that Mr. Barnard may be beaten. Just what got the idea into his head that the defeat of Mr. Barnard depended upon Mr. Mull's running does not seem exactly clear, but Bill made the statement and that's sufficient.

Meanwhile Mr. Mull is being pestered about every day on what he intends to do. From the way they are keeping after him it would seem that the convention was next week, but from all indications it will not be held then.

Yesterday Mr. Mull was in Shelbyville. He frequently goes to Shelbyville, but now that everybody wants to see him his visit has some significance. Bill Blodgett was in Shelbyville yesterday, too.

And this is what the Shelbyville News says about the whole affair:

Lon Mull of Manilla, the popular gentleman whom the Democrats of the Sixth district are seriously considering making their candidate for congress, was in this city Wednesday. For a time he was in the company of William H. Blodgett, the special correspondent for the Indianapolis News, and it was said he was telling Mr. Blodgett all about whether he intended to make the race or not. No statements were made to the public by Mr. Mull in connection with the visit regarding his intentions, but the Democrats would be pleased, just the same, if he could be prevailed upon to enter the race. Mr. Mull's popularity has been tested in the past politically and it is of the kind that brings victory to the party.

WIFE WILL NOT LIVE WITH HIM

Clyde Miller Asks For a Complete Divorce From Jessie A. Miller.

SEPARATED TWO YEARS AGO

Clyde Miller filed suit for a complete and absolute divorce from Jessie A. Miller in the circuit court today. In the complaint the plaintiff says that the defendant procured a limited divorce for two years, $250 in alimony, and the custody of their young child in October, 1907. The plaintiff further avers that he has asked Mrs. Miller to live with him since the time of the limited divorce has expired, but that she has refused saying that she had a good home and intended to keep it. For this reason Miller asks for a complete divorce and all further relief.

CORN IS COMING IN FAST

Farmers Are Selling Grain to the Elevators.

The elevator men are working over time handling the corn which is being hauled in. Since most of the corn in the county has been shucked and put in the cribs the farmers are beginning to sell it and haul it to the elevators. Corn is coming in almost continuously from all directions.

POLITICAL GOSSIP IS ALL UNFOUNDED

Mayor-Elect Black Says That the People Will Know When he Decides.

HIS POLICY APPROVED TOO

Just how the rumor started that Jesse Harlow was to be the next marshal of the city is a mystery. Mayor-elect Black said today that he had made no appointments and that when he did the people would know it. There is no disposition to hurry Mr. Black in his appointments and it is the general belief that he is sizing up the situation well before making any announcements, and this plan meets the approval of the citizens, too. Of course, there is considerable political gossip all the time, but the public can rest assured that any reports of appointments are false. When he has made his selections the mayor-elect says the people will know it at once, and that any rumors and near guesses are unfounded.

RUSH COUNTY MEN SIGN HIS BOND TOO

O. P. Hatfield, Treasurer-Elect of Henry County, Receives Unusual Tribute From Friends.

BOND MADE DOUBLY STRONG

O. P. Hatfield, county treasurer-elect, filed his bond with the board of county commissioners Wednesday, says the New Castle Courier. The principal of the bond, as required by law, is $100,000, but the signers of Mr. Hatfield's bond qualify in the aggregate sum of $205,000, making it doubly strong. Another feature of this instrument, one highly complimentary to Mr. Hatfield, is that it was arranged for and signed by his good friends in Dudley and Franklin townships, with two names from over the line in Rush county, and presented to him as a token of their confidence in his integrity and regard for him as a worthy and upright man. Such evidences of friendship, unsolicited and unexpected, are rare indeed.

Mr. Hatfield has selected Joe E. Leakey as his chief deputy, and his daughter, Miss India Hatfield, as assistant. He will take charge of the office January 1, 1910.

Fully one-fourth of the $13,000,000,000 worth of gold produced in the world since the discovery of America has come from the mines of the United States.

THE WEATHER

Rain tonight. Friday partly cloudy and colder.

MORE STAMPS ARE ORDERED

First Supply Received by Tri Kappa Sorority is Placed With the Merchants.

ATTRACTIVE POSTERS PUT UP

Little Stamps at One Cent Each Make Good Christmas Greeting on Packages.

Since the Red Cross stamps were put on sale in this city much interest has been aroused in the matter. The Tri Kappas who have charge of the sale for the Red Cross society have exhausted the first supply of stamps and more have been ordered. As a result of the shortage several merchants who will handle them later are not yet supplied.

The money derived from the stamp sale will go toward the tuberculosis hospital which will be erected at Rockville. The stamps sell for one cent each and carry a merry Christmas greeting. It is an ideal way to help a good cause and at the same time send a Christmas greeting to friends. Attractive posters were placed in the show windows this afternoon.

The list of the merchants who have the stamps now is given below and the others will be announced as soon as the new supply of stamps arrives. Those who have stamps for sale now are: Maury & Denning, A. L. Aldridge, Golden Rule store, O. P. C. H., Hunt & Kennedy, Bliss & Cowing, J. W. Hogsett, Vignans Variety store, T. W. Betker, Mrs. J. R. Carmichael, Frank Wilson, P. B. Johnson, J. B. Winship, Abercrombie Jewelry store, and T. W. Lytle.

Any lodge or club desiring a quantity of the stamps is asked to place the order with Miss Jeanne Bishop, and the stamps will be ordered from Indianapolis.

Near Hamburg, Germany, a patch of dwarf birch trees is closely guarded at government expense as a rare survivor of postglacial flora.

People Are Anxious to Help Santa Claus Spread Good Cheer Among Poor Children

Money is Coming in Rapidly Now For the Daily Republican's Christmas Fund.

FIRST LIST OUT TOMORROW

That the Republican's Santa Claus fund is meeting the approval of Rush county people is evidenced by the expression and commendation on all sides and incidentally by the contributions which are being received daily. The first list of donations will be published tomorrow and it will be much larger than even hoped for.

Now that the complete success is assured it is hoped that the first day's announcement will be a record breaker, and persons who intend contributing are urged to do so not later than tomorrow noon that it may be included in the first announcement. After tomorrow the contributions will be announced as they are received here. It is desired that this plan be understood—this is a popular movement, and every penny will be appreciated. If you can't give a dollar, give less. Children's contributions will be especially welcome.

"I think the Christmas fund is the best thing the Daily Republican has

WATSON MUCH SOUGHT AFTER

Just Returned From Strenuous Two Days' Speaking Campaign Over State.

WILL LECTURE IN LIGONIER

Spoke Before Scottish Rite Masons in Temple in Indianapolis Last Night.

James E. Watson can not get out of the habit of speaking and he is kept busy several hours each day answering requests to be present at memorials, dedications, and numerous other things. He has just returned from a strenuous two days' speaking campaign and is preparing for another lecture to be delivered next Sunday.

Mr. Watson was present last night at the annual dinner on the occasion of the semi-annual convocation and reunion of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Masons held in the Temple in Indiana. There were several hundred guests at the dinner and the large and spacious galleries above the chamber were filled with the friends of the members. There were several speeches on the program including an address by James E. Watson on Masonry. Calvin Prather, grand secretary of the Grand Lodge also spoke on the same subject.

Mr. Watson came to Indianapolis from Hammond Wednesday morning. He spoke before a large political gathering there on the night before, and was received by a large crowd. Sunday he will go to Ligonier, Noble county, where he will deliver an address at the Elks memorial there.

ISN'T IT?

With Xmas time drawing near,
Mortgage the furniture without a fear
And buy gifts for all those dear.
Then in February bleak and drear,
Mid anguish and many a tear,
The moving van backs up in the rear
Well, isn't it queer?

MATTHEWS-WILLIAMS CASE

Evidence is Heard in Suit on Account For $30.

The $30 accounting suit of John S. Matthews against Martha J. Williams occupied the time of the court this afternoon. The case was appealed here from Squire Ball's court in Arlington. The evidence was heard and Judge Sparks took the case under advisement to return a verdict later. Sexton & McColgin represented the defendant, and Watson, Titsworth & Green, the plaintiff.

DOUBLE FUNERAL OF MOTHER AND CHILD

Burial of Mrs. Frank Marschino and Infant Will Take Place at Osgood Tomorrow.

TWO DAYS BETWEEN DEATHS

The body of Mrs. Lennie Marschino, who died yesterday morning was shipped to Osgood this morning at 8:12 o'clock over the Big Four where burial will take place. The infant child of the deceased died after a few hours on this earth Monday and was taken to Osgood for burial. But before the infant could be buried the mother succumbed and both will be buried at the same time. A double funeral of mother and child will be held at Osgood tomorrow. There are four small children left in the family.

A short funeral service, conducted by the Rev. J. F. Cowling, was held at the home in West Third street last evening at seven o'clock.

CORN STALK HITS HIM IN THE EYE

A. H. Hopper, Living Near Raleigh, May Lose Sight as Result of Peculiar Accident.

HELPING AT CORN SHREDDING

A. H. Hopper, living one mile west of Raleigh, is suffering with an injured eye as the result of a peculiar accident. As the result of the injury he may lose the sight of his left eye although the doctors are not yet able to tell how serious the injury is.

He was assisting in shredding fodder when the butt of a corn stalk caught and was thrown violently toward Mr. Hopper. He did not have time to dodge and it struck him in the left eye, inflicting the wound. He is suffering considerably, but it is hoped that he will be able to retain the sight of his eye. Dr. Smullen of Raleigh is attending him.

LUMBER SUIT DISMISSED

Plaintiffs Fail to Appear in the Case Against J. D. Case.

The case of the American Export & Lumber company against Jasper D. Case on a contract was dismissed in the circuit court this afternoon on account of the failure of the plaintiff to appear. A jury was impanelled and the testimony was to have been heard by Special Judge Broadus of Connersville. Megee & Kiplinger and Sexton & McColgin were attorneys for the plaintiffs.

WIGWAM TO BE A WORK OF ART

Red Men Building Being Finished by New Method Which Gives it a Stone Effect.

KNOWN AS THE PEEBLE DASH

Is Said to be Only Structure of its Kind in the State—Originated in Spain.

Not many moons will have passed before the Red Men will have an up-to-date wigwam in West First street which will compare favorably with any building of its kind in the State. The members of the local tribe are already pointing with pride to the remodeled structure and they have reasons to be justly proud. It will probably be the most pretentious building in the city and one which any resident may point to with pride when showing a visitor about the city.

The contract for remodeling the old Social club building which was recently purchased by the Red Men was let to Charles J. Moorman & Son. The building was originally built for a place of worship and was occupied by the congregation of the Presbyterian church for a number of years. It does not have the appearance of a church now as all the rough edges are being knocked off and it is being rounded to a beautiful and modern building.

The contractors are remodeling it with what is called a pebble dash—two coats, the first being called a scratch coat and the second the Spanish finish. The first coat is sort of a mortar put on the outside of the bricks. Then on top of that is the Spanish finish which is a mixture of sand and other materials. This is put on by the workmen with their hands. They take a hand full of the mixture and throw it on the wall and it is allowed to run down the side. This gives it a coral effect which is very beautiful. The mixture must be exact or the result would not be satisfactory.

After the last coat is put on it is allowed to dry slowly. At first it is a dirty color but as it gradually dries out it becomes a beautiful cream color. At first the bricks under the finish show but as the material dries the brick lines vanish entirely. It gives the stone effect and is just about that color when thoroughly bleached out. An imitation stone border is being run around the middle of the building.

The new veranda which has been built on the front end of the building is made of a different substance which is called the torpedo sand finish. It has practically the same appearance as the other when bleached out. Several gables have been added to the building and the veranda always with an eye to the artistic side. The building presents a very pretty appearance and will be nothing less than a work of art when finished.

The finish which is being used originated in Spain many years ago and nearly every old building in that country is finished in that manner. Nearly all of the public buildings, lodge rooms, and even private buildings are being built that way in California and the contractors say that the method is being taken up in East. This is said to be the only building of its kind in the State. It is very probable that several other buildings in the city will be finished in the same way.

There are 500,000 men engaged in the production of oil in the United States, on whose labor 2,500,000 people depend, and the daily wages paid are about $1,000,000, or approximate $300,000,000 a year.

UNEASY ANGLER GIVEN A PARDON

Indiana's Governor Sets Disturbed Conscience at Rest.

TOLD HIM NOT TO WORRY

A Former Hoosier Who Has Gone West Had One Time Used a Seine, Contrary to the Statutes Made and Provided—His Conscience Having Been Accusing Him, He Wrote to the Governor Begging a Pardon For His Offense—This Was Freely Granted, the Chief Executive Bidding the Suppliant to Be of Good Cheer.

Indianapolis, Dec. 2.—Governor Marshall has issued an unconditional pardon to E. F. Camden, now of Olympia, Wash., the pardon being a "conscience easer." Camden, by his own confession, went seining in an Indiana creek some time ago and caught a fine mess of fish. He said in a letter to the governor that his conscience had been hurting him very much of late, and that he wished to set himself right. In forwarding the pardon the governor told Camden not to worry too much about the matter, as he had not broken any of the moral laws. As far as the state law was concerned, the pardon enclosed, the governor said, made everything all right.

TRAGEDY AT CHURCH

Dispute Over a Jumping Contest Leads to Fatal Duel.

Nashville, Ind., Dec. 2.—Samson Axom, aged twenty-seven, of Johnson township, this county, and Emmett Helensburg, aged twenty-four, of Polk township, Monroe county, engaged in a pistol battle in front of the Axom Branch church. When the smoke of battle cleared away Axom was found lying face downward with a bullet in his breast. An examination revealed that a bullet had entered the left lung of Axom and that he could not recover.

The Rev. Joseph Skinner was delivering a sermon in the church, and, as is the custom, several young men were loitering on the outside. The men were engaged in jumping, when Helensburg and Axom got into a dispute over the distance one of them had leaped. After exchanging a few words each drew his revolver and began firing. Helensburg, being the first to get his revolver from his pocket, fired the first shot. He fired six times at Axom, one of the bullets inflicting the fatal wound.

After Axom had fired one shot the cylinder of his revolver refused to work. He tried so hard to discharge the weapon that the trigger broke. Throwing the weapon to the ground, he toppled over.

An old grudge between the men, strengthened by the quarrel, is supposed to have been the cause of the trouble. Helensburg, immediately after the shooting, hurried home, shouldered a shotgun and started toward Heltonsville and has not been seen since.

CONTRACTORS TO BE PAID

Muncie Judge Announces Decision in Three-Mile Road Case.

Muncie, Ind., Dec. 2.—Indiana road contractors who have due them $2,000,000 for work done on roads in the state under the so-called "three-mile" road law and who have been fearing that they would not receive the money still due them because of the law having been declared unconstitutional by the Indiana supreme court several days ago, probably will heave sighs of relief as the result of the decision of Judge Joseph G. Leffler of the Delaware county circuit court, who ordered the treasurer of this county to pay the contractors the money due them. The decision was given in the case of George McCray, a road contractor, who petitioned the court for a writ of mandamus to force County Treasurer Ralph Clark to pay him $17,066.40 for work completed on a road in this county.

The claim having been properly approved by the county commissioners, the court so ordered, and McCray was paid the money. Another contracting firm, Hay & Son, whose claim for $10,400 had been approved, was also paid, and the others will be paid as rapidly as commissioners take action on estimates filed with them by the contractors.

There has been a general resumption of work on the "three-mile" roads that are under construction but not completed.

Roadmaster Under Arrest.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 2.—Charged with the theft of nearly $4,000 from the Northern Indiana Railway company, Kenneth R. Platt is a prisoner in the county jail. Platt, as roadmaster for the railroad, is charged with stuffing the pay-rolls in order to obtain the money.

Dead Pets to Have Cemetery.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 2.—The Central Illinois Family Pet Cemetery association was incorporated here and a tract of land containing fourteen acres purchased for the burial ground.

SWELLS THE RANKS ON "BANKERS ROW"

Oscar Cochrane Changes His Plea to One of "Guilty."

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 2.—Oscar F. Cochrane, former clerk in the American National bank, who changed a plea of not guilty to an indictment charging a shortage of about $7,000 to one of guilty, was sentenced to five years at hard labor at Fort Leavenworth prison by Judge Anderson.

This was the punishment given to the five other bank law violators Tuesday—Emmerich, Prinzler, Phillips, Nicholas and Detzer, all of whom, together with Cochrane, were taken to Fort Leavenworth last evening.

The trial of Paul C. Gall, charged with aiding and abetting Max Emmerich in abstracting money from the Capital National bank and causing false entries to be made on the bank's books, has been set for trial before Judge Anderson on March 7. Immediately following the Gall trial will be those of the Marker brothers, Will H. and Noah, charged with the embezzlement of a sum of money declared to be in the neighborhood of $100,000, from the First National bank of Tipton. Attorney for the Markers tried to have their trial set for as late in June, pleading the need of time because of the immense amount of preparation necessary, but Judge Anderson did not think that the trial should be put off longer than March.

STIRRING STREET SCENE

An Okmulgee Woman Created Sensation When She Went After Husband.

Okmulgee, Okla., Dec. 2.—When Mrs. B. Coleman suspected her husband of unfaithfulness she took a saddle-horse, placed a revolver in her belt and went to look for him. She met him on Main street in an automobile with another woman. When Coleman refused to get out of the car his wife opened fire, one bullet striking him in the spine. Another man and a woman were in the machine and these, assisted by the police, returned Mrs. Coleman's fire. More than twenty shots were fired. In the excitement the chauffeur tried to escape in the automobile, but ran on the curb and it was overturned. Meanwhile Mrs. Coleman had dismounted and when the machine was overturned it struck her and broke two of her ribs. This enabled the police to capture her and she is in the jail hospital. Her husband is not expected to recover.

Taking Foundation Evidence.

New York, Dec. 2.—In the trial of the sugar trust employees, the time has largely been spent in laying what appears to be foundation evidence for further disclosures. More than a dozen witnesses have been called, but most of them were merely asked to identify signatures—they were largely former checkers in the company's employ—indicating certifications of weighing records in the department of the defendant Spitzer.

Negro Girl Dies From Pistol Shot.

Indianapolis, Dec. 2.—Alice Rosen, fourteen years old, colored girl, who was shot by Jesse Flowers, a negro, is dead at the city hospital. Although it is believed the shooting was accidental, Flowers is held by the police on a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

Vinol

"From Dec. 20, '08, to March 1, '09, I had three bad colds, one on top of the other. I got so weak I could hardly get around. Nothing seemed to help me until I began to take Vinol. The change was magic. Three bottles completely fixed that compound cold and stopped the terrible cough—and what surprised me most, at the same time it cured me of a severe stomach trouble that has bothered me for 20 years.

Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Toppan is one of Lynn's most prominent and highly respected merchants, whose word is as good as his bond.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicery, sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

CLAUDE SIMPSON, News Editor.

ROY HARROLD, City Editor.

Thursday, December 2, 1909.

The Rev. H. G. Hill, who is well known here, owing to his work for the local chautauqua three years ago, last Sunday in a sermon at Indianapolis made a statement to the effect that the police department was rotten from the chief up. The insinuation was that the policemen were paid to protect certain forms of vice, and that there was considerable grafting. Immediately a storm of protest went up from Chief Metzger and he demanded that Mr. Hill be called before the grand jury and that the charges be sifted to the bottom. The grand jury has taken the testimony and is now investigating.

The peculiar thing about the case is that any attention should be paid to the statement. It is a serious statement, but it is a statement which can be heard almost any day in Indianapolis. And more than that, the statement is generally believed. Whether Indianapolis is any exception to the ordinary city its size is not the question. That there is continual violation of the saloon closing laws, there seems to be little doubt.

Almost any train or traction car leaving Indianapolis on Sunday evening will bear evidence that the saloons have not been closed as the law requires. Only last week some of the traction companies found it necessary to make a rule that intoxicated men would not be carried on their cars. There is no use denying the fact—many men from "dry" territory go to Indianapolis to spend Sunday and considerable money for liquor. And Rushville has sent a few on Sundays in the past, too.

Whether the police are to blame for the lax law enforcement can not be asserted definitely, but it does seem that when mere "rubes" can find places to get liquor at illegal hours the police could find where the unlawful sales are being made. If the saloons of Indianapolis do not wake up some fine morning and find that they have suffered for trying to make more money than the law allows it will be rather remarkable.

Interesting Side of Life

MODEL YOUNG MAN.

As every newly married man knows there are a lot of questions to be answered when you apply for a marriage license. They ask you all about your family history, and all your neighbors and a few other things. Sometimes the questions are a bit embarrassing and sometimes the clerk gets peculiar answers.

A young man and his bride applied for license last week. He was a bit bashful and so was she, but they answered all the questions all right until the clerk came to that long one which starts out, "Have you ever been in an insane asylum, had symptoms of tuberculosis, etc.?"

The young man immediately got serious and looked the clerk square in the eye.

"No sir. The worst I ever did was to chew tobacco."

CRANKLESS.

The white boxes which are on the reception committee for the Republican Santa Claus fund have had a lot of pleasant, unpleasant and funny experiences. They have been accused of being everything from penny slot machines up to waste paper receptacles. But No. 2 at Wolcott's corner has the best one yet on the other two.

A stranger in the city walked up and inspected it. He dropped his nickel in the slot and then began looking. The more he looked the more puzzled he got. Then he turned to some one standing near:

"Say, where's the crank on this box. I put my nickel in, but I haven't got any cigar yet."

BASS ALL RIGHT.

There is something fascinating about playing in a band. Perhaps it's the pleasure at mastering a difficult piece of music, or it may be the lure of the uniform. Any way it's something.

One of the ex-heroes of a band which was famous here in the old days tells an interesting story. There was one man in the bunch who could play nothing, but a bass horn (whatever that may happen to be). One night at the regular practice there was a discord. This one man had taken his music from the central rack and pinned it on the wall. Still there was a discord, and a bad one. Finally one of the members thought he had it located and walked over to the man guilty of the bass notes.

"What are you doing?" he asked.

"Why I am playing this music," replied the astonished man.

"That music? Why man, that's the bass drum book."

CERTAINLY NOT.

A youngster in North Morgan street has two kittens which have just been given him by a friend in the country. He is very proud of them and spent considerable time in selecting their names. After due deliberation he picked the classic names of Dick and Tom.

He was playing with his pets in the front yard one day recently when a woman who knows the boy well came along. The boy, as all proud boys should do, called the attention of the woman to the kittens.

"My! Those are nice kitties aren't they? And what are their names?" she asked.

"Dick and Tom," replied the youngster proudly.

"But my boy, you should have given such nice cats up-to-date names. Call them Cook and Peary," and the woman was proud of her suggestion—just for a minute.

"Naw. These aint no pole cats," replied the boy and the woman went on down the street.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

NEARLY DONE.

(Shelbyville Republican.)

Judging from the progress of work being made, the Clark Motor Car company will have its plant in operation by the latter part of next week. The building has been completed and as soon as the cement floors are dry enough, the machinery, most of which has already arrived, will be set in position. The large boiler to be used in the plant has already been set and the owners have arranged to begin operations with a large force of men next week.

BOOST FOR HARMONY.

(Connersville News.)

Tomorrow night is the time for the long heralded entertainment to be given by members of the Commercial Club to their wives and families and members of the literary clubs of the city.

Every preparation has been made to render this entertainment one that will bring pleasure to all participants and a credit to the club.

Already lists of the various committees have been published in the News and so well have they performed the various duties assigned them that little now remains to be done until the guests arrive. There will be an informal reception from 7:30 to 8:30 in the club rooms, when the guests will be invited to the Auditorium hall, where a carefully arranged program will be rendered.

The First M. E. Sunday school orchestra will furnish music.

That there will be a large attendance seems already assured and the hosts will leave nothing undone to make the event a memorable one socially.

GROWING TOO FAST.

(Richmond Item.)

The rapid growth of the south side within the last year has caused another worry to the local postal officials. With the large increase of business and the excessive amount of work the carriers now have to do it is impossible to cover the section as it should be. Postmaster Spekenhiser and Delivery Clerk Handley are anxious over the matter. The recent retrenchment policy of the department on account of the deficit of $20,000, 000 it will be hard to get an additional carrier here.

The emergency is due to the demands that are being made by the factories and residences that are being built on the southern edge of the city. The Automatic Tool company wants a business delivery early in the morning and it is impossible. The carrier on that route now has the enormous number of 155 blocks to cover and there are 548 families on his route. With all the hurrying he can do he is often forced to return at night with some of the mail undelivered.

There have been seventy or eighty new homes built on the south side since the redistricting of the city in October last year. With the present force all carriers have more than they should be required to do, it is said.

ALL STIRRED UP.

(Greenfield Tribune.)

Greenfield people are all stirred up over the rumor and almost asserted fact by some that the big Hoiweg Fruit Jar factory has been sold to Ball Brothers and will either be closed down or removed from the city. The rumor has been spreading for several days and a representative of the Tribune went to Mr. Niles Chapman, vice president of the company, which recently incorporated with a capital stock of $500,000 for confirmation or denial of the report.

Mr. Chapman said he had no statement to make in regard to the matter. "It is a fact," he said, "that Ball Brothers have been here and inspected the plant, but it does not necessarily follow that he is a buyer. I have also been all through their plant at Muncie, but I had no intention of buying."

When asked about the report that hands were being laid off on account of a sale of the plant, he said the fact was they were needing more hands and that if anyone was laid off it was for some other reason. He said they are now arranging to put new machines on the small tank, which was built for white liners for caps.

Mr. Chapman said the report that the factory would be closed down or removed, was decided premature, as there was but small likelihood of either of these calamities happening. This factory and Ball Brothers have worked together spasmodically, he said for several years, having the same interest in the production and the sale of fruit jars and the inclination is to centralize interests in industries.

When pressed for a confirmation or denial of the rumor, Mr. Chapman said he had nothing to report at this time either way, but that the fact that Mr. Ball was here inspecting the plant could not be taken as proof that a sale has been made or even contemplated.

Mr. W. A. Hough, the company's attorney was asked about the rumored sale, but said he had no statement to make.

For Dedication

Program Announced For the Milroy M. E. Church Exercises

The Official Board of the M. E. church at Milroy is planning for a big time when the new church building will be dedicated on Dec. 12th and the week following.

Although it was impossible to get one of the bishops of the church for the dedicatory sermon, as their time was taken just at this season, yet the board has arranged with representative men of the church who are to speak here.

Dr. Gilbert is editor of the Western Christian Advocate at Cincinnati, and is a strong man. Drs. Turner and Tevis need no introduction to Rush county people, and all who have heard them will be only too glad of the opportunity of hearing them again. Dr. Joshua Stansfield has been pastor of one of the largest churches in Indianapolis for nine years, and was recently chosen as a fraternal delegate to represent the M. E. church in England. Dr. Beauchamp of Louisville is a leader in the church south, and will speak along the Brotherhood lines. Chas. Coffin is a layman, Superintendent of the Central Ave. M. E. Sunday school at Indianapolis, and is the originator of the Adult Mens Bible class, and has such a class in his school of over 200 men. He will speak on Sunday school work.

Thus it will be seen that the week's program will be interesting to all as follows:

Sunday, 10:30 a. m.—Sermon, Dr. Levi Gilbert.

Sunday, 7 p. m.—Sermon Dr. J. W. Turner.

Monday Afternoon and Evening, "Home Coming"—Addresses by former pastors.

Tuesday, 7 p. m.—Address, Dr. Joshua Stansfield.

Wednesday, 7 p. m.—Pay Lecture, Dr. V. W. Tevis.

Thursday, 7 p. m.—Address, Dr. W. B. Beauchamp.

Friday, 7 p. m.—Address, Charles F. Coffin.

LODGE BUILDINGS ONCE CHURCHES

Strange Coincidence That the Secret Orders Have Homes Built For Places of Worship.

THREE CASES IN THE CITY

It seems to be somewhat of a coincidence that the three lodge buildings in the city were formerly occupied by churches and were built in the first place as places of worship. The old Social club building which was recently sold to the Red Men and which is being repaired by them, was formerly occupied by the First Presbyterian church, and was built for that purpose. It was sold several years ago when the congregation built a new church. The new lodge home of the Knights of Pythias was formerly the Christian church until the new edifice in North Main street was built. The Poundstone building which is now used by the Modern Woodmen, was at one time the St. Paul's M. E. church.

FIRST WAR STEP HAS BEEN TAKEN

Secretary of State Knox Sends Nicaragua's Representative His Passport and Strong Letter.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS OFF

Government Finds That the Situation in Zelaya's Dominion is no Longer Supportable.

Washington, Dec. 2.—This government has severed the diplomatic relations between the United States and Nicaragua. The charge d'affaires of Nicaragua has been handed his passports. This action does not mean the initiation of hostilities, but is the usual preliminary to that condition. The blow was softened, however, by a suggestion to the representative of Nicaragua that he might remain in Washington, where he would be received unofficially by the state department. Incidentally the insurgent government was recognized virtually.

The radical action of the United States was the direct outcome of the execution of the American citizens, Cannon and Groce, by order of President Zelaya of Nicaragua. In severing relations with Zelaya's government, Secretary Knox took the first step toward punishing Zelaya for the Cannon and Groce execution and repeated violations of the conventions of the Central American peace conference which was fostered by the United States and Mexico.

Mr. Knox's action took the form of a diplomatic note to Senor Felipe, Rodriguez, Nicaraguan charge d'affaires. It was sent after a long conference between President Taft and Mr. Knox.

The action of the state department caused no surprise in diplomatic circles. It has been understood generally that such action would be taken when the department completed its investigation into the deaths of the two men.

THE STAFF OF LIFE

Is Now to Be Controlled by Gigantic Trust, 'Tis Said.

New York, Dec. 2.—Combination of leading baking establishments in Manhattan, Brooklyn and on the west side of the Hudson into a giant baking trust that will control the output of upward of 6,000,000 loaves of bread a week, is the object of negotiations which are going forward. It is stated that a similar movement has been started in Baltimore, and it is the belief that, in line with the combines that have been formed in some of the western cities, notably St. Louis and Kansas City, other eastern cities, including Boston and Philadelphia, will be invaded.

STILL A MYSTERY

Mrs. Snead's Death in Bathtub the Subject of Police Inquiry.

New York, Dec. 2.—Mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. O. W. N. Snead, a young Brooklyn woman, whose body was found in a bathtub in a vacant house in East Orange, N. J., is still unsolved, though the police have taken into custody the victim's aged aunt, Miss Virginia Wardlaw, pending an investigation, the aunt's statements having been regarded as contradictory. Further probing disclosed that Mrs. Snead had an insurance policy of $20,000 on her life.

Carlisle Home Attached.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The Washington home of John G. Carlisle, former secretary of the treasury, has been attached by T. Kirkpatrick & Co., jewelers of New York, for an account of $2,385 worth of diamonds and jewelry which the firm alleges was bought by Mr. Carlisle.

Illinois, the largest producer of internal revenue taxes of any of the states last year, yielded the total of $43,441,770; Kentucky, $28,130,420; Indiana, $25,224,816.

Sick Cows Dangerous

Milk From Such Animals
Causes Sick Children

Two or three times recently Richmond papers have mentioned the fact that Dr. Bond, the city health officer, was after the dairies. And he was after the unsanitary ones so insistently that one of the number had its license revoked, barring it from selling milk in the city of Richmond, says the New Castle Times. No matter where the dairy, or private vender, may be located, it is where he sells his product that counts in the eyes of the law.

Since Dr. Bond began his rigid inspection great good has been accomplished, not only in cleaning up, but in eliminating weakly and diseased animals from the milk-producing animals. Twice recently the Richmond Board of Health has called Dr. Bolser, of New Castle, to inspect dairy cows supplying Richmond with milk. Although an ordinary health board can tell when premises are cleanly, the milking done and the milk cared for in a sanitary manner, none but a veterinarian of recognized ability can detect tuberculosis, or other diseases, in the cows. An animal may be diseased for a long time without showing it outwardly to any great degree, but the veterinarian's test will detect even a "tree."

In one dairy, where there are about sixty cows, every animal but one showed a clean bill of health, and this one was not seriously affected. Dr. Bolser said this one must be segregated and treated to see if she would recover. The owner of the dairy said: "No doctor; if you say this animal is diseased we will kill her. It is my ambition and desire to give the people of Richmond absolutely pure milk."

If all dairymen had such a high sense of honor, and of their responsibility, there would be fewer deaths of children from using impure milk.

Several days ago a veterinarian was called to the country, near New Castle, to see a sick cow. On arriving he found the animal in critical condition, and the tests proved it a case of tuberculosis, so far advanced as to make recovery out of the question. The animal was killed at once, and opened, when it was found that every organ in the body was found with disease, which even extended to the udder. The surgeons who made the test, and who dissected the animal, said: I wouldn't use enough butter to spread a slice of bread or cream for one cup of coffee from such a cow as that for ten dollars! And yet, up to the time this animal was sold to the man in whose possession she died, she was in a dairy herd that supplied milk to New Castle. This is one direct proof of the urgent need for rigid inspection of dairy cows.

The tobacco grown in the United States is of two general types or classes: (1) Cigar tobacco, and (2) chewing, smoking, snuff, and export tobaccos. In 1908 something more than 150 million pounds of cigar tobacco was grown in the United States and nearly four times the amount of the other types.

CHAPTER VII.

A Sprained Ankle.

I was panic-stricken. As I ran along the corridor I was confident that the mysterious intruder and probable murderer had been found, and that he lay dead or dying at the foot of the chute. I got down the staircase somehow, and through the kitchen to the basement stairs. Mr. Jamieson had been before me, and the door stood open. Liddy was standing in the middle of the kitchen holding a frying pan by the handle as a weapon.

"Don't go down there," she yelled, when she saw me moving toward the basement stairs. "Don't you do it, Miss Rachel. That Jamieson's down there now. There's only trouble comes of hunting ghosts; they lead you into bottomless pits and things like that. Oh, Miss Rachel, don't—" as I tried to get past her.

She was interrupted by Mr. Jamieson's reappearance. He ran up the stairs two at a time, and his face was flushed and furious.

"The whole place is locked," he said angrily. "Where's the laundry key kept?"

"It's kept in the door," Liddy snapped. "That whole end of the cellar is kept locked, so nobody can get at the clothes, and then the key's left in the door, so that unless a thief was as blind as—as some detectives, he could walk right in."

"Liddy," I said sharply, "come down with us and turn on all the lights."

She offered her resignation, as usual, on the spot, but I took her by the arm, and she came along finally. She switched on all the lights and pointed to a door just ahead.

"That's the door," she said sulkily. "The key's in it."

But the key was not in it. Mr. Jamieson shook it, but it was a heavy door, well locked. And then he stooped and began punching around the keyhole with the end of a lead pencil. When he stood up his face was exultant.

"It's locked on the inside," he said in a low tone. "There is somebody in there."

"Lord have mercy!" gasped Liddy, and turned to run.

"Liddy," I called, "go through the house at once and see who is missing, or if any one is. We'll have to clear this thing at once. Mr. Jamieson, if you will watch here I will go to the lodge and find Warner. Thomas would be of no use. Together you may be able to force the door."

"A good idea," he assented. "But—there are windows, of course, and there is nothing to prevent whoever is in there from getting out that way."

"But Before We Go On, I Want to Say This."

"Then lock the door at the top of the basement stairs," I suggested, "and patrol the house from the outside."

We agreed to this, and I had a feeling that the mystery of Sunny-side was about to be solved. I ran down the steps and along the drive. Just at the corner I ran full tilt into somebody who seemed to be as much alarmed as I was. It was not until I had recoiled a step or two that I recognized Gertrude, and she me.

"Good gracious, Aunt Ray," she exclaimed, "what is the matter?"

"There's somebody locked in the laundry," I panted. "That is—unless—you didn't see any one crossing the lawn or skulking around the house, did you?"

"I think we have mystery on the brain," Gertrude said wearily. "No, I haven't seen any one, except old Thomas, who looked for all the world as if he had been ransacking the pantry. What have you locked in the laundry?"

"I can't wait to explain," I replied. "I must get Warner from the lodge. If you came out for air, you'd better put on your overshoes." And then I noticed that Gertrude was limping—not much, but sufficiently to make her progress very slow, and seemingly painful.

"You have hurt yourself," I said sharply.

"I fell over the carriage block," she explained. "I thought perhaps I might see Halsey coming home. He ought to be here."

I hastened to the lodge.

"Where is Warner?" I asked.

"I—I think he's in bed, ma'am."

"Get him up," I said, "and for goodness sake open the door, Thomas. I'll wait for Warner."

"It's kind o' close in here, ma'am," he said, obeying gingerly, and disclosing a cool and comfortable-looking interior. "Perhaps you'd keer to set on the porch an' rest yerself."

It was so evident that Thomas did not want me inside that I went in.

"Tell Warner he is needed in a hurry," I repeated, and turned into the little sitting room. I could hear Thomas going up the stairs, could hear him rouse Warner, and the steps of the chauffeur as he hurriedly dressed. But my attention was busy with the room below.

On the center table, open, was a sealskin traveling bag. It was filled with gold-topped bottles and brushes, and it breathed opulence, luxury, femininity from every inch of surface. How did it get there? I was still asking myself the question when Warner came running down the stairs and into the room. He was completely but somewhat incongruously dressed, and his open, boyish face looked abashed. He was a country boy, absolutely frank and reliable, of fair education and intelligence—one of the small army of American youths who turn a natural aptitude for mechanics into the special field of the automobile, and earn good salaries in a congenial occupation.

"What is it, Miss Innes?" he asked anxiously.

"There is some one locked in the laundry," I replied. "Mr. Jamieson wants you to help him break the lock. Warner, whose bag is this?"

He was in the doorway by this time, and he pretended not to hear.

"Warner," I called, "come back here. Whose bag is this?"

He stopped then, but he did not turn around.

"It's—it belongs to Thomas," he

Million Of Lives Lost

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption. Many Unnecessary Deaths From This Disease.

If people could only understand that systematic catarrh is an internal disease that external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which, when neglected, paves the way oftentimes for consumption, a cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured, if the right treatment is employed.

Catarrh is caused by a general disease state of the system which leads commonly to annoying and perhaps serious conditions, which may prove a fertile breeding ground for germ of consumption. External remedies give but temporary ease.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Muc-Tone. We are so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid us for the medicine in every case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you try Rexall Muc-Tone or our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Rexall Muc-Tone on our guarantee. We have Rexall Muc-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and 1.00. Very often the taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make a marked impression upon the case. Of course in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $100 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Rushville only at our store—The Rexall Store. Lytle's Drug Store.

said, and fled up the drive.

To Thomas! A London bag with mirrors and cosmetic jars of which Thomas could not even have guessed the use! However, I put the bag in the back of my mind, which was fast becoming stored with anomalous and apparently irreconcilable facts, and followed Warner to the house.

Liddy had come back to the kitchen; the door to the basement stairs was double-barred, and had a table pushed against it; and beside her on the table was most of the kitchen paraphernalia.

"Did you see if there was any one missing in the house?" I asked, ignoring the array of sauce pans, rolling pins and the poker of the range.

"Rosie is missing," Liddy said with unctious. She had objected to Rosie, the parlor maid, from the start. "Mrs. Watson went into her room, and found she had gone without her hat. People that trust themselves a dozen miles from the city, in strange houses, with servants they don't know, needn't be surprised if they wake up some morning and find their throats cut."

After which carefully veiled sarcasm Liddy relapsed into gloom. Warner came in then with a handful of small tools, and Mr. Jamieson went with him to the basement. Oddly enough, I was not alarmed. With all my heart I wished for Halsey, but I was not frightened. At the door he was to force Warner put down his tools and looked at it. Then he turned the handle. Without the slightest difficulty the door opened, revealing the blackness of the drying room beyond!

Mr. Jamieson gave an exclamation of disgust. "Gone!" he said. "Confound such careless work! I might have known."

It was true enough. We got the lights on finally and looked all through the three rooms that constituted this wing of the basement. Everything was quiet and empty. An explanation of how the fugitive had escaped injury was found in a heaped-up basket of clothes under the chute. The basket had been overturned, but that was all. Mr. Jamieson examined the windows; one was unlocked, and offered an easy escape. The window or the door? Which way had the fugitive escaped? The door seemed most probable, and I hoped it had been so. I could not have borne, just then, to think that it was my poor Gertrude we had been hounding through the darkness, and yet—I had met Gertrude not far from that very window.

I went upstairs at last, tired and depressed. Mrs. Watson and Liddy were making tea in the kitchen. In certain walks of life the tea pot is the refuge in times of stress, trouble or sickness; they give tea to the dying and they put it in the baby's nursing bottle. Mrs. Watson was fixing a tray to be sent in to me, and when I asked her about Rosie she confirmed her absence.

"She's not here," she said; "but I would not think much of that, Miss Innes. Rosie is a pretty young girl, and perhaps she has a sweetheart. It will be a good thing if she has. The maids stay much better when they have something like that to hold them here."

Gertrude had gone back to her room, and while I was drinking my cup of hot tea, Mr. Jamieson came in.

"We might take up the conversation where we left off an hour and a half ago," he said. "But before we go on, I want to say this: The person who escaped from the laundry was a woman with a foot of moderate size and well arched. She wore nothing but a stocking on her right foot, and, in spite of the unlocked door, she escaped by the window."

And again I thought of Gertrude's sprained ankle. Was it the right or the left?

Words and Music of the Prettiest Song in "NEARLY A HERO"

"I DON'T WANT TO MARRY YOU," words and music by Edward B. Claypoole, sung by Miss Grace La Rue with Sam Bernard in "NEARLY A HERO," will be published in our columns this week. This is the daintiest song in "NEARLY A HERO" and is sung by the daintiest of actresses, Grace La Rue.

Mr. Claypoole never composed a better, although his "MY SAHARA BELLE" from the same production runs it a close second.

Publishing and performing rights have been secured from Edward Laska, General Manager of The Trebush Publishing Co., Publishers of all Shubert Musical attractions. There is no prettier or catchier music to be had than

"MY SAHARA BELLE" and
"I DON'T WANT TO MARRY YOU."

both from Sam S. & Lee Shubert's production "NEARLY A HERO." You want this song on your piano—it's the best one we've ever published.

THE NORTHWEST IN STRIKE GRIP

Not a Wheel Turning Between St. Paul and Seattle.

ALL FREIGHT IS SHUT OFF

Striking Switchmen on the Northern Trans-Continental Lines Have Secured the Sympathetic Assurances of the Firemen That No Non-Union Men Shall Be Permitted to Take the Place of Strikers, and Traffic in the Great Northwest Has Been Paralyzed—Many Localities Report That Famine Will Result if the Tie-Up Is Long Continued—Government Mediators Give Up.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 2.—Switchmen of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who oppose the Switchmen's Union of North America, which is the order now on strike in the northwest, have notified the Union Pacific and the other roads running west from Omaha that in case the union strikes the brotherhood stands ready to fill all vacancies.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 2.—Directly and indirectly, 65,000 people are already involved in the strike of switchmen on the trans-continental lines between St. Paul and the Pacific coast, and before the strike is adjusted it is believed that 150,000 persons will have been affected. Not a wheel is turning on any freight train between St. Paul and Seattle. In Minneapolis three of the big flour mills have closed down for the reason that they could not receive grain nor ship flour.

At St. Cloud, Minn., the Great Northern has closed its shops, putting 509 men in idleness. At Superior, Wis., the Great Northern has also closed down its shops and docks, crowding out 350 men. At St. Cloud in the granite works 500 men were thrown out of employment because of the uncertainty of the future. From St. Cloud, Willmar, Fargo, Grand Forks, Jamestown, Minot, Billings, Livingston, Butte and Helena, 165 engine crews were called off.

The switchmen have allowed perishable freight to be attached to passenger trains to be taken to terminal stations, but this only applies to the next twelve hours.

The situation is practically the same clear to the coast. The chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen has advised the general managers of all the western railroads that if any attempt is made to replace the striking switchmen by non-union men that he will call a strike.

The situation at present is this: That none of the jobbers of Chicago, the Twin Cities or Duluth can ship a single article except by express. Not a farmer in the northwest can deliver to the commission houses of the Twin Cities except by express. That the prospective Christmas business on all lines throughout the northwest is paralyzed. Milling and manufacturing industries are hourly being suspended and the loss in money runs into the hundreds of thousands of dollars every twenty-four hours. This is the most far-reaching and disastrous strike that has occurred in the west in twenty-five years, and the determination of both sides to fight to a finish promises to prolong the struggle for weeks. Members of the interstate commerce commission, business men of St. Paul and Minneapolis and members of the city councils of various cities in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana are preparing to appeal to the railway officials in an effort to settle the strike. Although appeals to the striking switchmen have been unavailing, public sympathy is with them. Two thousand, three hundred and sixty-four men are directly involved in the strike on the Great Northern and Northern Pacific between St. Paul and the Pacific coast, but they have the backing of locomotive firemen, and should the railroads attempt to replace the switchmen with non-union men the firemen will refuse to work, and this will tie up the passenger trains on the four northern trans-continental lines.

Telegrams from the northern Minnesota iron range towns, which include a population of more than 175,000, say that if the strike continues for a week there will be a food famine in all of the towns. The fuel supply may be had from the local timber, but all of the food must come from Duluth or the Twin Cities. One of the effects of the strike is the suspension of the big packing houses at South St. Paul. They can neither receive livestock or ship their present supply of produce which now fills their storerooms. All through the northwest mills and factories have been closing down.

Despairing of any possible compromise, Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and Charles P. Neill, United States labor commissioner, who came here to act as mediators, have returned to Washington. There is not a single indication in any direction of a possible settlement at this hour.

Railroad managers are now arranging to import strike breakers. This may be followed by stronger defense measures.

WILBUR F. WAKEMAN REPLIES TO MR. GAGE

Holds That His Original Charge
Is Confirmed.

New York, Dec. 2.—Former Appraiser of the Port of New York Wilbur F. Wakeman, who brought former Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage into the discussion of the sugar frauds by his declaration that when he laid evidence of crookedness before the secretary, Mr. Gage told him to take them to President Havemeyer "with my compliments," has issued a counter reply to the recent reply which Mr. Gage made in Denver. Mr. Wakeman said:

"Former Secretary Gage has confirmed my original charge to the effect that after I had discovered irregularities and frauds in the importations of sugar he, the then secretary of the treasury, referred me to H. O. Havemeyer, head of the sugar trust.

"I don't wish to give a man seventy-four years old and now on his third honeymoon, any trouble. Mr. Gage is reported to have said: 'My recollection of Wakeman is that he was rather rattle-brained, inclined to see ghosts and all that sort of thing. I put two detectives on the clues he furnished, but I do not believe that anything conclusive was found.'"

"Possibly I was inclined to see ghosts, but I delivered them in the concrete. I did not follow spiritualistic mediums, as did Mr. Gage at the time the sugar cases and others were under consideration. Mr. Gage cannot name a single case which I brought to his attention that I did not make good."

DEFICIT DIMINISHING

For Last Five Months Twenty Millions Less Than Same Period Last Year.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The fiscal statement for the month of November shows the deficit for November, represented by the excess of disbursements over receipts, was $4,323,759. For the five months of the fiscal year up to Dec. 1, it is $27,381,766, or about twenty millions below the deficit for the same period of the last fiscal year.

There is a deficit for the month in the expenditures on account of the Panama canal construction of $3,148,172, and for the portion of the fiscal year up to Dec. 1 of $14,194,575, compared with $10,366,589 for the like period of last year.

Keeping a Lookout For Cook.

Paris, Dec. 2.—The Cherbourg correspondent of the Petit Parisien says he is informed that Dr. Cook, the Arctic explorer, will embark at New York for France. He will take passage on a German steamer touching at Cherbourg. An order has been given to watch for his arrival.

SHINES IN SOCIETY.

Women With Fascinating Hair Always Attract Attention.

If you are a woman with dull, lifeless, ordinary hair do not feel distressed. Just make up your mind now that you can have just as luxuriant and captivating a head of hair as any other woman; and quickly, too.

Just go to Johnson's drug store this very day and get a bottle of Parisian Sage. Use it as directed, two weeks your scalp will be free of dandruff, your hair will be soft, lustrous and beautiful.

If your hair is falling out, Parisian Sage will stop it.

If your hair is thin, Parisian Sage will make it grow heavily.

If you have dandruff it will quickly vanish when Parisian Sage is used.

It prevents the hair from turning gray; stops itching scalp almost instantly and is the ideal dressing for daily use.

A large bottle costs only 50 cents at Johnson's drug store or direct, all charges prepaid from the American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Eczema Readily Cured by a Simple Home Treatment.

A simple clean remedy that can be used in the home is what every person desires who is suffering from eczema. You can now have that remedy and get instant relief, and be cured permanently by ZEMO, a clean vegetable liquid for external use. ZEMO cures skin diseases by drawing the germs and their poisons, that cause the disease, to the surface of the skin and destroying them, leaving the skin and healthy. Mr. F. E. Wolcott, the druggist, will give you a booklet and a sample bottle of ZEMO and will explain to you how a great many cases of eczema and other forms of skin diseases have been cured by this simple home treatment.

MANY WANT IT

Five Sport Promoters Bid For the Jeffries-Johnson Fight.

New York, Dec. 2.—Judging from the bids offered for the Jeffries-Johnson fight, the pugilists may battle for a purse and picture privileges netting more than $500,000. Bids were opened yesterday afternoon at a Hoboken hotel, but the fighters and their representatives asked for time to consider the various offers, each side promising to reach an agreement some time today. Five bids were received. They came from T. J. McCarrey of Los Angeles; Edward W. Graney of San Francisco; H. D. McIntosh of Sydney; Jack Gleason and J. W. Coffroth of San Francisco, coupled, and Tex Rickard of Nevada and Jack Gleason, coupled also. It is roughly estimated by a well-known theatrical manager that if Jeffries wins the pictures of the mill may produce $500,000 in profits.

HORRID DEATH OF A NEGRO PREACHER

Georgia Mob Burns Rev. Howard at the Stake.

Hawkinsville, Ga., Dec. 2.—About midway between here and Cochran, Rev. John Howard, a negro preacher, was burned at the stake last night by a mob. Howard was burned because yesterday afternoon he shot and mortally wounded W. D. Booth, one of the wealthiest men in this section.

The negro had some business transaction with Booth and they were discussing the matter. There was some disagreement and the negro drew a pistol and shot Booth twice. The negro fled, but the news spread and soon Howard was being pursued by parties in automobiles. After a chase of three hours the negro was captured and at once the cry of "lynch him" was raised. There were probably 300 white men in the posse and they voted unanimously to burn the negro.

Howard was taken to the scene of the crime, bound to a stake and fagots piled about him. All this time the negro was praying to the Lord to save him and singing snatches of religious hymns. Even when the fagots were fired the negro continued to sing and pray, but when the flames began to scorch him he became enraged and called down curses on the men who were torturing him. The negro's agony became so frightful that the more merciful members of the mob ended his misery by a volley of bullets. The fire was kept going until the negro's body was consumed.

The feeling against the negro was not alone due to the fact that he shot Booth. The negro was an eloquent orator and had great influence with his race, and it is said he continually used this power to stir up trouble between the races. It is charged that nearly all of his sermons were tirades against the white people. This was largely responsible for the horrible punishment meted out to him.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Chicago Dealers Destroy Food in Order to Keep the Market Up.

Elgin, Ill., Dec. 2.—Nearly a week ago three coal cars filled with good potatoes were taken from Chicago and the potatoes dumped into the sand pits at Hammond, Ill., three miles south of here. It is said the potatoes were thrown away for the purpose of keeping up the prices on the staple product. Peddlers took advantage of the situation and began hauling the product into Elgin and selling it at low prices.

Meanwhile many of the potatoes were spoiled and the Elgin health department warned housewives to beware of purchasing them.

TIME WAS LOST

Men in Doomed Mine Not Warned of Danger Until Too Late.

Cherry, Ill., Dec. 2.—The head officials of the St. Paul mine have been charged with the responsibility for at least half of the lives lost in the recent disaster. In the course of the testimony heard at the coroner's inquest, David Wright, one of the survivors of the disaster, declared that the men were permitted to continue with their work for more than half an hour after the discovery of the fire without being warned of the danger.

Well Shooter Blown to Pieces.

Cameron, W. Va., Dec. 2.—With a roar that could be heard at Washington, Pa., twenty-five miles away, the nitroglycerine magazine of the Marietta Torpedo company, near here, exploded. An oil well shooter named Shuster was blown to pieces, as were also a horse and wagon.

Eight Taken From Mine.

Ducktown, Tenn., Dec. 2.—The eight men who were imprisoned in the London mine of the Tennessee Copper company as the result of a shafthouse fire, have been brought to the surface. None is physically disabled as a result of the trying experience.

Citizens Were Intimidated.

Carmi, Ill., Dec. 2.—Cracksmen broke into the grocery of Anderson & Sawyer at Eldorado, and blew the safe, escaping with $400 in cash. Several citizens heard the explosion, but were afraid to venture out.

SOCIETY NEWS

Miss Henrietta Coleman will entertain a number of friends at cards this evening.

Miss Aileen Wilson will be hostess for a card club this evening.

The Ladies Aid Society of Sells Chapel church entertained their husbands Wednesday evening at Mr. and Mrs. Sylvia Hodge's. The home was beautifully decorated. The society's colors, pink and white, were used in the decorations. A two-course dinner was served. The evening was spent in charades and a nice musical program was given. Music was furnished by Chester Dearing, Frank English, Wint. Hurst and Mr. Brown. Mrs. John Zeigler gave a recitation, which was enjoyed by all. Seventy persons were present. Among them being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Casady, Mr. and Mrs. Alba Casady and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Craig and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Veatch, Mr. and Mrs. John Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Will Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and family, Mrs. Rhoda Inlow and daughter Pearl, Mrs. Mary Miller and son and daughter Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fletcher and son, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crim and little daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr and son.

THIS IS GOOD HOG RECORD

Ed Johnson Raises Ninety. Uses Own Corn, and Sells High.

J. Albert English also has a hog story, but this one is true and gives a little indication of the money in the porkers now.

"Ed Johnson, living five miles west of this city informed me that he had raised ninety head of hogs this season," said Mr. English. "And he fed them out of corn he raised on his farm and got them to weighing 225 pounds each. He sold them a few days ago for eight dollars per 100 pounds, netting him quite a neat sum of money. Mr. Johnson is a son of Lafayette Johnson, and is quite an enterprising, hustling young farmer."

MRS. HAYWOOD DEAD.

Mrs. Mary A. Haywood died Wednesday night about 12 o'clock at her home, near Henderson. The funeral services will be held at the Hannegan church Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Burial will be in Hannegan cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS

The Star-Grand was crowded at every performance last night to hear the "Galloway Twins," who were called back each time by a loud applause from the audience. They will appear again tonight with a change of program. There will also be a change of films. Two subjects will be given. The first is entitled "A Servant's Revenge," which is a comedy full of fun. The second is a drama entitled "Foiled." Earl Robertson will sing "My Dream of the U. S. A." in which he made a big hit last night.

The Palace management has a real, live, laughing film tonight in the subject, "A Bachelor's Love Affair." The title suggests comedy and that is what it is of the rich, rare and racy type. A good laugh is guaranteed for each foot of film and the manager says that is not exaggerating it any, either. Miss Iva Brown will sing "Longing For You Sweet-heart."

The Vaudet is enjoying good crowds each evening during the baby show. They have an especially good program tonight in the two pictures "Neapolitan's Revenge" and "The Sandwich Woman." Both are said to be highly entertaining. The baby show increases in interest each evening and the votes for the most popular children are larger after each show. The votes for the different contestants now are: 1, Hallie Green, 93; 2, Mildred Brecheisen, 17; 3,

Ward Hubbard, 50; 4, Mary Elizabeth Beale, 14; 5, William Wallace, 29; 6, Leon Geraghty, 27; 7, Marion Lacy, 3; 8, Louise Cochran, 5; Miss Venus Lowden will sing "When the Moon Plays Peek-a-boo."
